Washington Cut Off By a Raging Blizzard

Railroads and Street Traffic Blocked by Heavy Snowfall Which May Continue All Day—Other Points South in the Grip of Worst Storm in Twenty Years.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The national capital struggled today in the severest snow storm in twenty years. Attended by a blizzard which swept northeastward from the Carolina Capes, the snow has been falling steadily since five o'clock yesterday afternoon, demoralizing traffic, blocking streets, and resulting in numerous automobile accidents.

The weather bureau reported that there was no sign of let-up in the snowfall and predicted it might continue most of today and tomorrow. Sixteen states in the east and south, down to the southern extremity of Alabama and Mississippi are also reported to be in the grip of the storm.

City trolley car companies worked hundreds of men during the night in an effort to keep their tracks clear but were forced to abandon many cars when the snow piled up in drifts two and three feet deep.

Since midnight last night no trains have moved into or out of Washington, the roads being impassable. Early today an effort was made to move a special train to New York and after being out one hour, it was reported at Baltimore, where it is considered unlikely that it will be able to make the rest of the distance. All train schedules have been broken.

One man was found dead near the treasury in the heart of the city. His body was stumbled over by pedestrians trudging through the drifts of snow piled several feet high. He was identified as John O'Hagan. The belief was expressed that he died from natural causes brought on by exposure to the blizzard.

Policemen reported numerous collisions between street cars and automobiles, due largely to the ineffectiveness of automobile brakes on the slippery streets.

Thousands of government employees residing in outlying sections of the city were compelled to walk to work because of the tied up street car service. They struggled through the knee-deep snow in armies, monopolizing the streets that had been swept by the railway company's snow plows because of the impassability of the sidewalk. Street cars, unable to make the switches because of the snow-jam, jumped the tracks.

Weather bureau officials announced that up to 10 o'clock this morning when the temperature was 26 degrees, approximately two feet of snow covered the ground.

Mail deliveries in the city were greatly delayed, and incoming mails from the south were practically at a standstill.

Police headquarters were flooded with telephone calls all morning from anxious relatives and friends of persons who had not returned to their homes during the night.

Ten Foot Drifts in Virginia.
Clarendon, Va., Jan. 28.—Northern Virginia was buried today under the worst fall of snow since the famous three day blizzard of 1898. Throughout Fairfax, Arlington and Alexandria counties, the snow was spread out for a depth of three feet, while in some places the slanting drifts reached up to ten feet.

Thousands of government employees who live in this section of Virginia, were unable to reach their work in Washington, owing to the complete tie-up of traction systems, demoralized and the almost impassable condition of the roads.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 28.—Virginia is today experiencing a real blizzard with the ground hard frozen, snow a foot deep and a biting north wind.

Street car service, crippled by the strike, is wholly and completely out of commission, and there are few automobiles able to negotiate the banks of snow. Railroad service in and out of this city is badly upset with many trains off schedule.

Miller Enterprises, Inc.
A certificate of incorporation of the Miller Enterprises, Inc., with principal office at Kingston, has been filed with the Ulster county clerk. The purposes of the incorporation is to purchase, lease, own, or manage picture houses and similar places. The capital stock is $3,000 consisting of 50 shares of $100 each. Isaac Miller, Abraham Miller and Michael Stein are the directors and stockholders.

Change Office to Kingston.
A certificate has been filed with the Ulster county clerk by William F. Brussen, George Brussen and Lena Wolf, all of 15 Auburn street, a majority of the stockholders of the Sunset Candy Company, Inc., certifying that the principal office of business of the company has been changed from New York city to the city of Kingston.

FREIGHT WRECK ON WEST SHORE

Traffic on the West Shore railroad was tied up this morning by the derailing of two freight cars loaded with grain in the south bound freight between Milton and Marlborough which occurred at 4 o'clock. At the West Shore station here it was said that there was no one injured, but both tracks were blocked for some time. The wrecking crew got the north bound track finally clear and southbound trains were switched around the wreck on the north bound track. It was expected that the other track would shortly be cleared and traffic become normal. What caused the two freight cars to be derailed is not known.

BUSY SEIZING BOB VEAL HERE

Dr. Harold Clarke, Food Expert of Board of Health, Keeping Close Watch to Prevent Sale of Bob Veal—One Arrest, and Another Expected.

Dr. Harold Clarke, the food expert of the board of health, who has been keeping close watch to prevent if possible the sale of bob veal in Kingston, on Friday afternoon seized a carcass and placed Abraham Bach under arrest. Bach's case will come up Monday in police court.

This morning Dr. Clarke and Sanitary Inspector Stark visited the butcher shop of David Farber on the Strand, near Hasbrouck avenue, and seized another bob veal carcass. It is expected that a warrant will be later sworn out for the arrest of Farber.

It has been known that bob veal has been brought into the city and sold for some time, and it is now expected that with a closer supervision of the situation the sale of the veal, which the state health law says is unfit for food, will be stopped.

ULSTER CARNIVAL WAS BIG SUCCESS

Affair Given By Ellenville Priest Brought Together Many Ulster County Residents of New York City.

The Rev. Joseph L. McCann, formerly of Kingston, now the priest in charge of the Ellenville parish, is to be congratulated on the carnival and reception held in the Twelfth Regiment Armory, New York, Thursday night.

The affair brought together about 3,000 people, of whom many were from Ulster county, and every one present had a great time. It reminded one of the fairs and receptions held in the old Academy of Music in Kingston, and there were many in attendance who had not seen each other in twenty years or more.

Well, well, if you don't look younger now than you did the last time I saw you at the Hibernian ball or St. Joseph's or St. Mary's in the Academy of Music, you were something like the remarks frequently heard during the evening. Good, warm handshakes were indulged in, and no signs were visible anywhere of anyone being reluctant to greet the friends of their youth, and good old-fashioned hospitality prevailed.

Mention of the names of all present would require too much space. The Hon. William E. Cleary, honorary president of the Ulster County Society, and his brother, Cornelius J. Cleary, Judge William D. Cunningham, John McDermott, president of the West Side Democratic Club, Lawrence Kenny, Neil Kalaher, James O'Reilly, Henry R. DeWitt, Thomas McCann, Frank Murphy, and Joe Drake were among those there.

The West Side Democratic Club, of which John McDermott, formerly of Kingston, is president, will hold a reception and dance in the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York, on February 17. This function is being attended yearly by many former Kingston and Rondout people.

Much Grip But No "Flu."
While there are many grip cases in Kingston, no cases of epidemic "flu" have been reported to the board of health. There has been but one or two pneumonia cases so far reported.

ONLY $800 PAID BY OUTSIDE PUPILS

Board of Education Discusses Failure to Pay Bills For Non-Resident Tuition—Other School Matters.

A regular monthly meeting of the board of education was held Friday evening in the rooms of the board at the high school. Trustees Herbert, Kearney, Thompson, Van Wagoner and Flemming were present. This was the first appearance of Mrs. Frank Thompson as a member of the board. Mrs. Thompson was appointed by Mayor Crane for the unexpired term of Mr. Crane which was made vacant when he assumed the duties of mayor on January first.

The matter of tuition for pupils attending the high school from outside the city came up for a short discussion and Superintendent Michael informed the members of the board that only about $800 of the $4,000 due the board for the first term's tuition had been paid and some of that under protest. The matter of collecting the remainder of the money which is needed by the board, as it was figured in when the budget was made up, was discussed, and Trustee Van Wagoner stated that some method should be found for collection of the money for the past term and also for the second term which has just begun. The board finally decided that bills for the present term with the balance due last term would be sent out before February 19 and that they would be due on or before the 20th day of February. This action was taken in order that the board would be able to take definite action at its next meeting in case some of the bills were not paid when due.

Trustee Van Wagoner, of the finance committee, offered the payroll for January, amounting to $18,795.13, and bills amounting to $2,395.41, which were ordered paid.

The president and secretary of the board were authorized to audit the bills for coal from the Riverside Coal Company. These were for soft coal which is being used at the high school very successfully and costs the board about $7.40 a ton delivered. Trustee Kearney, of the building committee, reported that additional lights were needed in the machine shop at the high school, and the committee was authorized to investigate and report the cost.

The teachers' committee reported the employment of Miss Roach as an additional teacher in the high school. Since the mid-year examinations it has become necessary to add one more teacher in order to care for the additional pupils. Miss Roach comes highly recommended with four years' teaching experience. She comes from Canton, N. Y. The action of the committee was approved.

Communications were read from the teachers of manual training and part-time school asking for additional equipment for both schools. The estimated cost of the manual training equipment needed was about $100 and for the part-time school about $225. Trustee Van Wagoner inquired as to the need of the equipment and informed the other members of the board that too much attention and expense was being paid to this branch of the work in the high school. He inquired what work was being done and said that the equipment for the machine shop smelled like automobile.

Mr. Michael stated that the boys were repairing automobiles in the old Ford, given by Mr. Millard, and another loaned by the Stuyvesant Garage. Trustee Van Wagoner's opinion was that the work was being carried too far and he suggested that if a boy was interested enough in such work he ought to go out and secure useful work along that line. Superintendent Michael explained that boys who would otherwise leave the high school were encouraged to attend and continue their other studies when allowed to spend some time in the machine shop of the school. The matter of equipment was referred to the supplies committee with power on motion of Trustee Herbert.

President Flemming appointed Trustee Gill, Van Wagoner and Flemming as visiting committee for the month.

The following committees were announced by President Flemming for the year, the old committees being broken up by the numerous changes on the board:

Teachers' Committee—Trustees Gill, Hale and Flemming.

Finance Committee—Trustees Van Wagoner, Schaeffer, Brinnier.

Rules Committee—Trustees Schaeffer, Gill, Thompson.

Building Committee—Trustees Kearney, Van Wagoner, Flemming.

Supplies Committee—Trustees Herbert, Brinnier and Thompson.

Superintendent Michael submitted the following report:

I respectfully submit the following report for the school month ending December 23, 1921:

ATTEMPTED DOUBLE DEATH BY MERCURY

Dry Brook Valley Furnishes Tale of Woman Who Tried to Kill Self and Child.

The Catskill Mountain News of Margaretville says that Bessie Polham, who has been caring for Mrs. David Fairbairn at the latter's home in the Dry Brook Valley, made an attempt to kill herself and her seven-year old daughter several days ago. She took a mercury tablet and required her little girl to take one also. Both the mother and child became ill but the mother told what she had done. Then Dr. Wilson and Dr. Champlin of Fleischmanns were called and used every effort to save both lives. Neither the mother nor daughter are yet out of danger.

According to The News, an effort will be made to show that the unfortunate woman is insane. She lives in Pennsylvania. It was rumored that she made an attempt to jump into the "forge," a deep hole in the Dry Brook stream, the day she took the poison, but this could not be authenticated.

The Fairbairns reside at Belleaire, in the town of Hardenburgh, but no statement of the occurrence has been made by them or by any of the local officials to Ulster county officials. If the Polham woman is insane, proceedings for her commitment to an institution necessarily would be taken in Ulster county.

Mercurial poisoning works slowly unless taken in large doses, and generally acts fatally. Physicians say that victims of the poison may linger about twelve days, but rarely any longer.

KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP HAD A GRAND NIGHT

It is a well-known fact that commercial travelers do things or they would not hold their jobs long, but when a number of the "men of the grip" get together, especially if they are members of the United Commercial Travelers of America, and then again if they are members of Kingston Council, No. 356, and get together to do something, that something is done on a big scale. They held a regular meeting Friday night at their rooms in the Clermont, formerly known as the Crosby building, and the event will be long remembered by the large number of salesmen present. Not only were all candidates for membership initiated but several of the top-line officers, supreme and grand, were present. After the initiation refreshments were served and then a smoker with addresses followed, with "Eph" Burke as toastmaster. He kept things moving. Those from out of town who were greeted by the members of Kingston Council and who spoke were Supreme Auditor Charles A. Hibbard of Columbus, Ohio; Grand Past Counselor Arthur Shafer of Albany; Grand Conductor Elmer Doolittle of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; George H. Merkle of Brooklyn, formerly of Kingston, and John Dubois of Newburgh. It was a late hour when the session closed, and Wesley Waterbury, W. C. Duane, William Duran and the other officers were satisfied that those present had had one grand big time.

Fire at Napanoch.
Wednesday evening the house of George V. McCarthy at Napanoch was destroyed by fire.

16 to 20. As a result of the recent preliminary examinations 72 pupils were graduated from our public elementary schools and became eligible for admission to the high school. As a result of the mid-year examinations the registration at the high school has been augmented by over 90 pupils, making the total registration for the year at the high school 909 pupils.

The facts of attendance for the month of January have not yet been reported to the superintendent, but from appearances it has been equal to that of previous Januarys, notwithstanding the prevalence of sickness among school children.

The reports on examinations and promotions in the elementary schools are before me at this time. The time has been too short for me to examine and analyze these reports. I shall endeavor to have this done to present at the February meeting of your board.

The following report from the librarian of the high school library is significant and interesting. In my opinion the high school library is one of the most potent factors for culture and development of taste for good reading on the part of our young people connected with the public school system.

Library report, September 7, 1921, to January 13, 1922:

Number of pupils registered during school hours	96
Number of pupils using library out of school hours	6
Total	103
Largest number registered in one day	2
Library open for drawing books, days	3
Number of books issued from library	25

The Kingston Chapter of the Hudson Valley School Women's Clubs requested the high school auditorium for the Bishop Quayle lecture on February 6. The request was granted subject to the usual conditions. The board then adjourned.

ACTIVITIES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

New Students' Register—General Field Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Addresses Assembly—Cameron Beck to Talk.

The beginning of the week witnessed the matriculation of a great number of freshmen and the tail-end of the week saw the same crowd searching diligently for the class rooms and trying to figure out the beginning of the respective periods and their endings.

Tuesday morning's resumption of the regular assembly exercises was given over to Mr. Dodge, who furnished quite a treat to the new arrivals who are expectantly looking forward to another visit from him. Mr. Dodge's work is bringing results and the part singing is becoming more and more harmonious.

Wednesday morning Mr. Fenno, general field secretary of the American Y. M. C. A., spoke to the students, who thoroughly enjoyed his return to the school. Two years ago Mr. Fenno spoke for the first to the student body of the high school on books, and he finished his address with a talk on the check book, a book of vital importance to everyone. This time Mr. Fenno spoke of the "times," and the changes of customs. In speaking of the customs of the Hopi Indians Mr. Fenno declared that whenever a young girl feels that she cares to enter into matrimony she breaks out into the wearing of puffs on the side of her ears.

Inter-class basketball practice is quite the thing now with the more energetic students. Inter-class basketball calls for much sacrifice these wintry days as the players have to quit their cozy beds in the drowsy hours of the early morning and the practice begins at 7 o'clock. One redeeming feature of this requirement is that there are not apt to be any of the enemy's scous prowling about to swallow the doses of signals doled out by the team captains. The games are played at the close of the afternoon session in the "gym."

Thursday morning Mr. Dodge appeared in the chapel with the Harmonic Quartet, which, due to the courtesy of Mr. Gildersleeve, was enabled to sing before the students. This quartet renders only the very best of operatic selections to the audiences and the natural ability of the artists is a constant delight. The selections sung for the students were of those which appeared on the list for the music memory contest and were of the very best. The appreciation of the students for the artists was clearly shown when they departed with unrestrained applause ringing in their ears.

An unusually pleasing program was given by the seniors in the assembly Friday morning when four of the upper classmen displayed in a most creditable manner the training given by Miss Carter. The first speaker was Miss Mary Kyer, who favored the audience with the poem, "Each in His Own Tongue." Harry Voss followed with a group of Lord Byron's poems centering on the "Hero of Leicester." Miss Dorothy Kennedy gave a most amusing monologue entitled "A Woman Inquiring About Trains." The last speaker was Jack Ealen, who gave an uproarious recitation of Robert Service's poem, "The Cremation of Sam McGee."

The Prisma Society has come to the front and are at present selling book covers to the students in order that there may be no opportunity for the students to say that they had no place to buy durable book covers for their text books.

Cameron Beck will speak to the student body next Wednesday morning in assembly. The address of Mr. Beck will be very interesting to the citizens of the city also as he has a vast fund of experience to draw from and anyone wishing to avoid himself of the opportunity to hear Mr. Beck is invited to attend. The fact that Mr. Beck will speak in assembly is no reason why the boys should not attend the Hi-Y supper Tuesday night, since Mr. Beck's talk to them will be of an entirely different nature.

In order that the seniors may have their pictures in the Maroon when they appear next June they must have their pictures taken at once, for the cut has to be made and it incurs a great deal of work. Mr. Merrill has reserved every afternoon for the seniors who wish to have their pictures taken at the Pennington studios. The seniors are asked to cooperate with Mr. Merrill and Vernon Beeher, the Maroon business manager, in this matter.

The Smiling Faces contest is still on among the seniors and in order to promote the cutting out of these pictures for the contest the seniors are to have a Senior Social next Wednesday night, February 1st. As this is the first Senior Social of the year the seniors are planning to make it a great success and it was only through much persuasion that the seniors are able to obtain the gymnasium on a week night.

Latest reports that were current in the K. H. S. basketball encampment were to the effect that "King" Lehr, the Kingston "pro," center is to aid Mr. Woodward in coaching the Varsity five and it is this so the Crapster-trained organization will undoubtedly clear the Kingston High five for the rest of the season. "King" Lehr is a popular hero in local basketball circles because of the reason that he has proven his worth and his experience will prove of great value to the locals.

All fellows who are planning to attend the Cameron Beck lecture at the Hi-Y supper next Tuesday will do well to sign up early with the ticket sellers in their respective roll call rooms at an early date and to procure their tickets at the first opportunity.

The board then adjourned.

Storm in Baltimore Worst in 50 Years

Terrific Northeast Gale Banks Snow in High Drifts—Trains Halted and Harbor Traffic Tied up by Ice.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Baltimore, Jan. 28.—Baltimore is in the grip of the worst blizzard experienced in fifty years. Snow has been falling steadily since early last night. The snowfall is accompanied by a terrific northeast gale. Street cars and other vehicles are badly hampered. Train schedules are halted. Snow in outlying territory is banked several feet high. Shipping on Chesapeake Bay was hard hit by the storm. Several ocean-going vessels, tugs and barges are imprisoned in the ice packing the upper harbor. These ships are in no danger however. The municipal ice boat E. C. Latrobe, after being rammed by a British steamship which was attempting to tow about twenty miles below Baltimore, has been ordered back to port.

WEATHER WAS A LITTLE WARMER

Difference of 14 Degrees in Temperature Today Over Friday—South Rondout Ice House Filled—Ice Harvest in Full Swing—Automobiles Over the River.

It was fourteen degrees warmer this morning at 7 o'clock than it was Friday morning at the same hour. Thermometers on the Strand which on Friday stood at zero were 14 above. After the zero-and-below brand of weather handed out by the weather man since last Saturday the temperature this morning seemed warm, and was greeted with hearty approval by the early risers as they plodded to work.

The weather man is promising snow, and some people hope that the moderation in the temperature may continue in force for the balance of the winter.

The ice harvesting in this vicinity is progressing. The Knickerbocker Ice Company has completed filling the South Rondout house which now contains 14,000 tons. The High Hook will be filled with 17,000 tons by Monday, and the 21,000-ton house at East Kingston will probably be finished by next Thursday. Work is also progressing at Esopus.

The ferry transport made its last trips of the season between Kingston and Rhinecliff on Friday, and today some of the local taxmen ran a taxi service over the river. The cars were driven on the ice near the gas plant in Ponckhookie. This is the same place used by the drivers of vehicles in other seasons. The ice on the Hudson river is a foot or more thick in this vicinity.

FORD IS FULL OF SENTIMENT

Displays It in Connection With John Burroughs, Whose Funeral He Attended and Famous Retreats Purchased.

The Hon. A. B. Hall of Detroit, general counsel for Henry Ford, was at Judge Clearwater's office on Thursday and Friday, closing up the transfer of Woodchuck Lodge and Slabside, formerly belonging to John Burroughs, which as heretofore stated in The Freeman Mr. Ford has bought and proposes to maintain in the exact condition in which Mr. Burroughs left them.

The delay in the transfer of title has been due to the necessity of extinguishing the lien of a forty-year-old mortgage which Mr. Burroughs paid years ago but the cancellation of which he failed to record, and the elimination of the shadowy lien of the old royal grants of lands in Delaware county which a generation ago gave rise to the anti-entire wars. These have all been cleared off, and the deed of the properties was delivered to Mr. Ford's representative on Friday.

People who think Mr. Ford is destitute of sentiment may be interested in knowing that at his suggestion he was given a seat at the foot of Mr. Burroughs' coffin on the day of the funeral, with Thomas A. Edison and Judge Clearwater. Mr. Burroughs having frequently said to him that they three were among the men he had known the longest, and trusted the most. Another indication of sentiment in the nature of the great automobile millionaire is his instructions to the caretaker at Woodchuck not to cut the brush along the fence because it affords places for birds to nest, and a refuge for rabbits. He is delighted with both Woodchuck and Slabside, and proposes to spend considerable time at the former.

Seiler Restaurant to Close.
Mrs. Arthur Seiler will close the restaurant which she has successfully conducted for several years at No. 25 North Front street, the building having been sold and Mrs. Seiler having been unable to find another suitable location. The fixtures will be stored until a new location can be procured.

Getting Tax Bills Ready.
City Treasurer Cashion and his office are busy getting the city tax bills ready to mail to the taxpayers. Taxes are due the first of February and taxpayers have thirty days in which to pay the tax. Over five thousand bills must be made out and mailed.

Price's Lights Out.
Isidor Price was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by Officer Heas on a charge of running his auto without lights. As it was Price's first offense he was discharged when arraigned before Judge Schrick in police court.

Prize Portraits on Exhibition.
Through the courtesy of the Sprague-Hathaway Studios of Boston, Mass., two of the water color portraits mentioned in The Freeman in September as making a very favorable impression at the New England Photographers' convention have been loaned to the Pennington studios for a ten day exhibit in Kingston. They are now occupying temporary display space in the window of the studio on Main street but the showing is to a better advantage on proper wall spaces.

These portraits have been so greatly admired at various exhibitions, notably at the Buffalo National Photographers' convention, the Baltimore Middle-Atlantic and the New England States convention at Springfield, Mass., that it is the intention of the Boston Studios to exhibit them in February at Pittsburgh at the Middle-Atlantic convention, and in August at the National convention to be held at Kansas City, unless the portraits are purchased in the meanwhile.

Marcellus Low of this city is a representative of the Sprague-Hathaway Studios. The studios have a clientele of over 1,000 photographers and were awarded first prizes at the Pan-American Exposition at San Francisco, and Kingston and the Pennington Studio should consider themselves not only highly complimented but signally honored through the selection of the portraits on exhibition and of other local selections out of thousands submitted annually from throughout the country.

The portraits which have attracted such wide notice are those of Mrs. Mildred Hildreth LeFevre and of Mrs. Bernard V. Roach, daughter of Mrs. Harriet D. Ackerman of No. 36 Henry street.

SPORTSMEN OPPOSE NEW RESTRICTIONS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Jan. 28.—(Special to The Freeman.)—Opposition to the bill introduced by Assemblyman Charles H. Betts of Wayne county, which provides for an increase of twenty-five cents for hunting licenses, is expected from the sportsmen of the state generally. The measure originated, it is said, with the conservation commission, or the state tax department and not with Assemblyman Betts.

The position that sportsmen are said to have taken is that it is an unfair proposition, since the license will include the right to fish, and trap as well as hunt. The unfairness is pointed out as being the consolidation of fishing and trapping with hunting. Owing to the rapid growth of the pesting system, fishermen declare that it is now impossible to fish in any but state owned streams within the forest preserve. It is claimed that practically all of the trout streams in the state are posted for their entire length notwithstanding the fact that the waters were stocked from state hatcheries. The possession of a license to fish would not make the streams open to anglers.

To pay a license to fish in the lakes and streams near their homes is regarded as an imposition by many fishermen, since these waters are practically devoid of game fish.

Another provision of the Betts bill which has met with the disfavor of sportsmen is that which prohibits the carrying of guns or rifles afield during the closed hunting season. To carry out the provisions of the bill to the letter would mean that neither hawks nor weasels could be shot by farmers or campers.

SCHIRICK WILL LEAD COLONIALS

Meeting of Ball Club Held Friday Evening To Formulate Plans For Coming Season—Local Players To Be Given Tryout As Soon As Weather Permits.

City Judge Harry E. Schirick will again lead the champion Colonial A. C., who won the Hudson valley semi-professional baseball championship last season. This was definitely decided at a meeting held Friday evening. Weather conditions being favorable, the club will open the baseball season in Kingston the latter part of April. The home grounds have not been definitely selected as yet.

Judge Schirick is counting on turning out another fast base ball team, and to that end all who were present at the meeting Friday were instructed to file a list of the names of all local players who might prove good material for the coming season.

Every man who may prove available will be given an opportunity to display his wares, and if he proves fast enough will be given a chance to play. The mere fact that a player was with the team last season does not mean he will retain his berth unless he shows that he is the better man.

Judge Schirick stated today that recruits for the various positions on the team will be had as soon as the snow is off the ground and weather conditions permit. He believes that it will be possible for Kingston to turn out another winning combination this year and will have the local support of the fans.

You need not try to call to mind the name of this famous national song, for everyone is familiar with it at first sight. Though written in 1823 by John Howard Payne, it has never lost its power, for the simple reason that its very words pull on the heart strings of mankind.

Is there in this broad land a man who does not want a HOME OF HIS OWN? Who does not want the pride of saying, "That is my home?" The pride of owning a home should be the ambition of every man. If you were to look into the past histories of men who have succeeded you will find that in most cases that the foundation of their success was OWNING A HOME. PRACTICAL JOKES.

There occurred in Kingston recently the death of a man from injuries sustained in a "practical joke" perpetrated by some of his fellow workers in the ice harvest at a New Jersey lake. From time immemorial practical jokes have been played by man upon his fellows, but there is a distinction between a practical joke and a crime. In this case a crime was perpetrated, undoubtedly without intent, but none the less a crime.

There is nothing wrong or criminal in a joke that has no serious aftermath, aside from injuring the feelings and pride of the one joked. It is time, however, that man was made to realize that he will be held strictly to account for any real injury he may inflict under the guise of a joke.

In the case under consideration the ones who perpetrated the "joke" can be held criminally responsible, and if their identity can be proven, will undoubtedly face a prison term. Ignorance is no excuse. The mere fact that they intended their act as a joke does not relieve them of the responsibility.

As the "joke" was committed in another state the matter should be, and undoubtedly will be, investigated by the New Jersey authorities if called to their attention.

THE SHOCK OF TAXES.

Among the changes in taxation recommended by the legislative committee on taxation and retirement is a result of extensive investigation, none is of wider interest than the proposal to relieve real estate from a portion of its excessive burden. The committee believes state finances should be adjusted so as to render a necessary the usual state tax on real estate, being of the opinion that "permanent relief for the overburdened real property of localities involves the development of a new spirit and practice in the localities themselves with respect to waste and the extravagant extension of plans for expenditures."

Real estate in New York is in an especially exposed position, the committee says, bearing the full brunt of mounting costs of government. "It is practically the sole shock absorber." Wherefore, the committee recommends a readjustment which will "distribute the shock" among the various parts of the revenue system.

In seeking ways to "distribute the shock," the committee follows the line of least resistance. There is nothing new in its plan, but only in the language applied to taxation problems. Beneath the idea of distribution lies the idea that "shock" is a necessary part of the system of government; the people are going to have a bitter pill, divide the drug in smaller pellets and sugar coat them.

Why not try to abolish the shock? If it cannot be eliminated, why not seek to reduce it to a minimum? A pill of moderate size will need neither division or a coating or sugar; the cumulative effect of a series of small shocks is just as disastrous as one heavy blow. It is the effect of the medicine—the total amount of taxes contained in the pill, the effect of the tax shock on the pocketbook, that the public thinks about; it is only the prescribing legislative physicians who consider methods of making it attractive—to "distribute the shock."

Legislative bodies, from congress down to the most humble organization, might profitably put themselves in the position of shock absorbers. They might not enjoy the sensation, but their action would be appreciated by the taxpaying public. How long would a master mechanic hold his job if he spent his time figuring on methods of distributing shock among various parts of his machinery instead of finding the cause of the shock and removing it?

Governor Miller was busy with speeches last week. He spoke four or five times and on each and every occasion he said something worth while. Lots of men talk. That is easy, but to make four or five speeches and say something that will last is another thing. What Governor Miller says has some value. He talked to the farmers and he talked to the lawyers, and in both instances he knew his subject having been here on a tour.

and having sat on the Court of Appeals. No one would deny that he was qualified to speak to both organizations.

Those inclined to whine in the presence of misfortune should take note of a bronze fountain erected at Enterprise, Ala., in honor of the boll weevil whose blasting touch is described as "a blessing in disguise" in that it has brought about diversification of crops and thereby established a new era in the South.

If Debs had his wish and all the prisons were opened wide, some of the inmates might decline to give up their luxurious lodgings for another knockabout in a cold, hard world. We read that the cells of the new Illinois penitentiary surpass in appointments the rooms of many hotels.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do fish have eyelids?
2. How do oysters stick to their support?
3. What can I feed a pet owl?

Answers In Monday's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Why do some birds have bristles at their mouths?

Probably as an aid to catching fine insect prey. The whippoorwill has them, and to some extent the night hawk. The redstart, a warbler, also has bristles. All these birds catch their insects, which are more readily ensnared where the bill is reinforced with this fringe.

2. What is a whale, a fish or an animal?

It is an aquatic mammal, of the order Cetacea, to which belong also dolphins and porpoises. It brings forth living young. Has the back limbs so undeveloped they do not show externally, and from limbs turned into paddles. They are gregarious, swimming in schools.

3. Who discovered how to harness an engine?

We don't know. Records show the Egyptians and Chinese knew this trick thousands of years ago. The Egyptians used water wheels. Probably this gave the idea to a Frenchman, Reaumur, who began experimenting early in the 18th century. He tried to beat steam engines, and also built of decaying material, practically the "snake-oil" method. Later an Englishman tried a wire sieve filled with cotton held over a charcoal fire. It took 3 weeks of constant watching to make out the effects.

LIVING MATERIALS.

DIFFER IN VALUE.

Many New York soils are known to be in need of lime and wherever possible some living material should be added, but according to experts at the General Experiment Station several factors should be taken into consideration in making the purchase. A simple and reliable method, taking these factors into account, has been developed by the Station, so that the purchaser can estimate the relative value of different materials.

It is claimed that by using this method the farmer will be able to buy his lime more intelligently and, if he has a choice of materials, will also be able to determine accurately which will give him the greatest return for his money.

The troops which must be taken into consideration in making the calculation include the first cost of the material, the so-called calcium carbonate equivalent determined by chemical analysis, and quantity of lime to be purchased, the freight charges, and the cost of hauling and applying the material.

It is pointed out that if farming materials can be readily obtained from more than one dealer it may be possible for the farmer to save money by using this method of calculation and learning just what return he may expect from a purchase made from each dealer.

Anyone desiring to make use of the method should apply to the Station for Bulletin No. 478, which may be had free of charge.

Editor Le Fevre of New Paltz Finds Benedictine Hospital Pleasant Place for His Enforced Sojourn.

Ralph Le Fevre, editor of the New Paltz Independent, gives a new insight of the life of a patient at the Benedictine Hospital, where he has been a patient for several weeks, and in this week's issue of the Independent he gives some vivid and interesting impressions of the place.

He says:

For over fifty years I have been accustomed to write out for publication in the Independent what had been uppermost in my mind.

For the past three weeks I have had an experience quite unique and different from anything heretofore.

Since December 31 I have been at the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston, on account of a surgical operation for hernia that developed six or seven years ago, but had not caused any special inconvenience or oppression until quite lately. Now, however, we were assured that it might grow worse at any time and that it could be removed without any danger and a permanent cure effected. The operation was performed without using any ether, and was not especially painful. Recovery has gone on as fast as possible, there has been no setbacks.

However, I have been in bed over two weeks, which is quite a new experience to me, and quite monotonous.

The Benedictine Hospital is a very nice place. In a certain way I have enjoyed my sojourn here so that perhaps I ought to consider it a vacation. It has been a vacation certainly to the extent that I have given no thought to matters at home, well knowing that everything was going on all right there. I have been greatly cheered, received letters from a number of friends at home expressive of sympathy and good wishes. I should have liked to answer these letters, but was not strong enough physically to do much writing. I was very thankful for the flowers sent.

It would be interesting, I am sure, to tell about things here. There are about fifty patients here at present, perhaps the third of them have been poor fellows who were hurt in explosions in the New York water works tunnel in the Catskills. Several from our part of the county who were here when I came have gone home, cured among the number a child of Mr. Bachelder, but pneumonia, and Mrs. Miller of Ohioville, who was ill of appendicitis. She was cured here when she came and was here four weeks. A very interesting case is that of Mrs. Kram of Accord, wife of Dr. Kram. She was suffering from cancer and was treated by Dr. O'Meara with radium. She went home several days ago in much improved health. Dr. O'Meara has great confidence and success in the use of radium in cancer.

I have had a great many social calls from doctors and others which I have enjoyed greatly. In fact I have done nothing much since I have been here but to talk to callers and to read besides eating and sleeping. I have not suffered any pain and am steadily growing stronger, but I am not yet allowed to put my feet out of bed. Dr. Cranston, who has charge of eye and throat diseases, makes me a social call every day. His brother who was many years ago pastor of the M. E. Church at New Paltz, also called to see me. I have been greatly interested in the management of this institution and in the history of the Benedictine order in general. It certainly does a great amount of good in its hospital work. The sisters are very kind and manage things very methodically.

I have had two delightful calls from Judge and Mrs. C. D. B. Hasbrouck. Judge Hasbrouck, who is president of the State Historical Association, gives me the pleasing information that it has been finally decided to have the next annual meeting of the State Historical Society at Mohonk and that September 26th will be the day. It is expected that New Paltz village will be called on to accommodate part of those who attend. This will be quite easy as the season for summer boarders will be over. We may expect that it will be the most noted gathering of citizens that ever met at New Paltz. They will find a great deal of historical interest in our village and vicinity. It is expected that the visit will not be confined to the village but will take in other places from Kingston to Newburgh, to Newburgh Bay and the Highlands. There is no organization of the D. A. R. in New Paltz to assist in planning out a program or in taking the lead, but we are assured that the New Paltz citizens, both men and women, will be glad to lend their assistance in making the meeting a big success.

LIKE OLD SANTA

People of Northern Siberia Emulate Kriass Kringle.

Appropriate Entry into Homes Is Through the Roof, Which Is Door, Window and Chimney.

Santa Claus is not the only person in the world who enters homes by way of the chimney, for in the little town of Kamenskoye, way up in northern Siberia, on the Peshina gulf, nearly every one does it. The house is shaped like a perpendicular X. Starting with a ground floor that is about 25 feet in diameter, the frame walls, constructed roughly of driftwood, lean inward for about 12 feet, then turn outward for another 10 or 12 feet. They do not touch each other in the center, but leave an opening of from three to five feet wide.

That opening is the door, the window, the chimney, all in one. A pole rests against the outer side of the house high enough to reach the top of the structure. On the upper side of the pole steps are carved in which to insert the toes when climbing. A similar pole, set upright in the center of the house and up through the chimney, is also furnished with steps for ascent and descent.

The first effect of this strange arrangement is that visitors are recognized, not by their faces, but by their feet.

The house is so constructed that the fireplace is directly underneath the chimney. Naturally, the smoke goes up to greet the newcomer, and soon covers every side of the chimney, ready to attach itself to him. The pole is always hanging over the fire, full of melting snow or boiling water and oak or reindeer meat. The man up the chimney is dressed in heavy furs, the hairy side turned outward. As he comes in touch with pole and chimney a gentle spray of hairs comes easily drifting down, accompanied by showers of snow. The pole below is usually open. Hence the food is mingled with hairs and snow.

Reason exists for the peculiar shape of the Kamenskoye house or yurt. During the worst of winter no doors or windows at the side of the yurt would avail. The snow piles up on every side as high as the house itself. Then the people can walk straight up to the chimney, and the dogs crowd around the opening in the top for warmth and to enjoy the rising odor of cooking fish and reindeer. Sometimes one dog pushes another down the chimney. If the cover of the pot is off the reception proves rather too warm for the unfortunate victim. But lean in there to catch him by the neck and take him to the top of the house, where the snow will soon reduce the heat of his bladders. The episode has not spoiled the dinner.

In spite of the fire within, the house is not comfortably heated because of the opening on top. Snow, too, comes easily drifting in. It is necessary, therefore, to have tents inside the house. They are made of heavy furs and are placed on the wooden platform that surrounds the fire. In these poles the dwellers find refuge when the smoke becomes too trying or the atmosphere too frigid. Inside the pole stands a wooden bowl of seal's oil with dried moss floating on its surface, to be lighted at the pleasure of the occupant.

Of Course Not

Illustrative of the time, Andrew W. Butler, secretary of the board of state charities, tells the following story of an occurrence in a certain Indiana county not so very long ago:

There was a poor family in a township. The father was a wanderer and of not much account. There were six children and the mother was left most of the time to provide for them. The township trustee had been helping the family out of the township poor fund.

One day a son in the family got into trouble. The sheriff and agent for the county board of guardians drove to the home. The boy was away. The mother seemed anxious to see that the law should have its course with the son, and to avoid an extra trip and expense the sheriff suggested:

"Well, then, I'll not come out after him when he comes back, but you bring him in."

"Why, I can't bring him in now," explained the woman, "our machine's broke."—Indianapolis News.

Statue of Christ as Peace Symbol

Archbishop Gleason, of St. Louis, in a sermon the other day, said that the Christian people of the world should construct a huge statue of Christ, using material from scrapped battleships and cannons, and place it upon a mountain top to stand as a symbol of lasting peace. "The nations of Christendom," he said, "should at this time, when the armament conference at Washington is attempting to prevent future wars, express their unanimous longing for peace by planning the erection of the statue to the Prince of Peace."

Brilliant Sign Has Few Lights

An electric sign recently tried out with success replaces the individual lamps in the rim of the letter with small mirror reflectors, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. These reflect the light supplied by two 25-watt lamps, placed near the center of the letter and fitted with opaque caps, so as to be invisible from the front. An arrangement of this kind will effect a considerable saving in lamp renewals and current consumption.

Removing Ink Stains

Iron licks are best removed by treatment with warm oxalic acid. If such treatment does not remove the stain completely it is possible that the ink has been a mixture of iron ink and an aniline dye, in which case a second treatment with javelle water is necessary.

CHARACTER MUST BE MOLDED

Superior Formation of the Mind Can Never Be a Matter of Spontaneous Growth.

What man wins with, if he wins at all, is character, and character is no spontaneous growth. It does not spring full-blown into the light against moral or spiritual foes. As it can be won, it can also be lost—lost merely through inaction, slothfulness, and failure to cultivate it. Here again the philosophers speak with much clearness. "He that wrestles with us," said Burke, "strengtheneth our nerves and sharpens our skill. Our antagonist is our helper." "Difficulties," said another great man, "are things that show what men are." Another one speaks of "the muscular training of a philosopher," which, he says, results in: "A will undiminished; evils avoided; powers daily exercised; careful resolutions; unerring decisions." "The art of living," as seen by Marcus Aurelius, "is more like wrestling than dancing, in so far as it stands ready against the accidental and the unforeseen, and is not apt to fail." No man, it has been said, ever grew good or bad all at once. Goodness or badness is the result of a process, and in the former case the process may be, and usually is, arduous. The apostle is in agreement with the philosophers, with whom indeed he has much in common: "So run that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air; but I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." Through it all runs the note of effort and struggle, and in it there is a warning against one of the most demoralizing and entangling of faults—which is slackness. The object which all these teachers had in mind was the "soul well-knit," which is an essential element in a strong character—indeed the very center of it, and quite indispensable to it. But the "soul well-knit" is the product of life's discipline bravely endured, and wrought into character.—Indianapolis News.

Road of Good Intentions

In an effort to regulate, if possible, the erratic ways of the motorist, the Jeffersonville board of works recently placed a "silent policeman" of the mushroom type at the intersection of Spring street and Court avenue, where the police could stand in their office and watch how well the motorists obeyed it. For a time a good many kept cutting the corners, but the police were encouraged when they saw one careful driver. He came east on Court avenue intending to turn to his right, south on Spring street. Suddenly he caught sight of the "silent policeman"; he remembered what it was there for; determined that it must at any cost be circumnavigated, so swung his machine well over to the north, or left side, passed in a beautiful curve around the "mushroom," came in on the left side of Spring street and so around to his proper station again. "That man certainly is trying hard," commented Captain Summers, watching from the police station.—Indianapolis News.

Arab Robin Hood

Al Tbal, an Arabic newspaper, reports the escape from Ceylon, whither he was expelled by the British government from Mesopotamia, of the notorious Sayid Taleb claimant to the throne of Iraq, and known from Basra to Baghdad as the Arab Robin Hood. He is stated to be seeking a refuge in the country of Ibn Saud, the sultan of Najd, who, according to Moslem law, will be compelled to offer him hospitality. No news of Taleb's escape, however, has reached official circles in London, where it is declared that Ibn Saud, who is in receipt of a subsidy of $500,000 a year from the British government, will doubtless inform the high commissioner of Mesopotamia of the arrival of his unwelcome guest. Sayid Taleb attempted to influence the recent royal election in Mesopotamia in his favor by corruption and bribery, and he was about to declare war on the British government with a handful of followers when he was expelled.

A False Start

It was the seventeenth round. The two pugilists looked like drowned rats. The referee held up his hand. "Them last rounds don't count," he announced, hoarsely. "The fight will have to start all over again." A low growl ran through the vast assembly.

"What's the trouble?" poured an individual in the tenth row. "The trouble is," explained the referee, "that the moving-picture man has struck a bad spot in his film, and the pictures are no good. Are you ready up there, professor? All right! Shake hands, boys! On my right we have—"

Lumber Wants for Fuel

"Bog fuel," consisting of sawdust, shavings, ground-up edgings, slabs and trimmings, is widely used throughout the northwestern lumber fields, but only as an incidental; and the disposal of this material is usually a charge against the mill. A central heating plant has now been erected in Tacoma, designed especially for the burning of this fuel and with no provision for handling any other. The fuel arrives on barges and is handled by a five-ton clamshell bucket and a system of conveyors.—Scientific American.

The Desire of All Nations Near

"Millions now living will never die."

—Judge Rutherford.

Life, perfect, limitless; with a regenerated race; on a restored earth; with a corrected climate and life-perpetuating food; under a Government which will satisfy the righteous desires of every living creature. And it is here, at the door. The portals of the new age are swinging open and many will enter in and never die.

Is it any wonder that we have to tell it again and again? How could one in possession of this priceless knowledge remain silent? The very stones would cry out!

A Scientist

Of nationwide reputation stands that in our national diet cereals (Bread) could well supply 50% and dairy products 20% of the individual diet.

Real value is based on what any commodity gives, not what it costs in dollars and cents.

Bread, judged by this standard, would be at almost any price our cheapest food.

Bread has been called "the token of civilization." And the rapid strides in progress which the Western world has made over the Orient is by many students attributed to the fact that Bread is a more complete food than rice.

Wheat is the cereal par excellence in the baking of Bread of the type which the entire world seems to crave.

Half the world is dependent upon the United States for wheat to supply this highly nutritious food.

Such vast agricultural resources make this country a great humanitarian power in supplying the sustenance that makes human being in all parts of the world more efficient.

But while we are supplying other nations with wheat for their Bread, we are neglecting a golden opportunity to make the most of Bread in our own diet.

One noted authority says that if the consumption of Bread in the United States were increased even up to 35% of the diet, people would generally be better off as to health, and the cost of living would be perceptibly lessened.

We can well afford to learn a food lesson from the many European countries whose populations secure fully 60% of their diet in the form of Bread.

OF ANCIENT DAYS

Much is Told in Collection of Old Documents.

Legal Papers Recovered by Investigators Reveal Life of People During Early Christian Era.

What is described as one of the most important collections of ancient documents yet discovered, consisting of more than 100 legal papers dating from the reigns of the Roman emperors Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula and Claudius, has been brought to Ann Arbor by Prof. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan. Professor Kelsey spent some time in Egypt in search of records. The collection is held to be important because it reveals the life of people during the early Christian era.

The records obtained by Professor Kelsey constitute a part of the files of a record office in or near Tebtunis, Egypt, and were discovered four months ago. They are written on papyrus and are chiefly in Greek, a few being Demotic. They are believed to have been covered with sand soon after the record office fell and with few exceptions are preserved perfectly.

The earliest record is dated 7 A. D. and bears the signature of a woman who agreed not to bring claim against her brothers. Another record, of the same period, is a contract of common law marriage.

Among other records are contracts of sale covering both personal and real property, including lands, vineyards and houses. There also are leases, agreements regarding loans, a contract of indemnity, receipts for wages, a receipt for dowry, official orders, petitions to public officials, tax receipts, documents relating to transferring ownership of slaves and part of a registry of debts.

What is held to be the most important record is in the form of a roll, more than seven feet long and written on both sides. It is said to be a perfect example of an ancient book or scroll of the kind mentioned in the Bible, particularly in the Book of Revelations.

The scroll, dated 42 A. D., contains on one side abstracts of a number of contracts and on the other is a registry of the contracts, written in the record office of the second year of Emperor Claudius.

Between ten and fifteen years will be required to decipher all of the records and to explain them in their relation to Roman history, according to Professor Kelsey. The university professor asserted there could be no question as to the authenticity of the records.

Another collection brought to the university by the professor includes a papyrus book of twelve leaves, in which are written the incantations and formulas used by a master magician. There are charms and curses for various occasions, one being a love charm. In the prayers, God and the angels are invoked as well as the pagan deities of Egypt.

"Survival of the Fittest." Samuel Eliot Morison, author of "The Maritime History of Massachusetts," comes of New England seafaring stock, about which many deep-sea tales might be told. According to a family tradition, two of Mr. Morison's ancestors were shipmates on a brigantine which was wrecked in the Pacific ocean toward the end of the Eighteenth century. The crew had to row almost a thousand miles in a small boat before they reached land, with the usual accompaniment of drawing lots to see who would furnish the meals. One of Mr. Morison's ancestors perished; the other survived, and on reaching home two years later found that his daughter had married the victim's son. The two families remained on the best of terms, but it was considered poor form to refer to the "survival of the fittest" in the family circle. Mr. Morison did not tell this incident in his "Maritime History," as he did not expect anyone to believe it.

Oil Cans Used as Stoves. The device to which empty kerosene cans are put are well known, and even in the most remote parts of the world these tin containers are in great demand because of the many different forms into which they may be made for further service, says the Kansas City Star. The five-gallon size, it appears, is the most favorable because it can be worked by the average handy man with the crudest of tools. Along the great waterways of interior Alaska drums are often found doing duty as stoves, but it is seldom it is found utilized like this elsewhere. Travelers who have trod their shins in front of this stove in the "Golden North" hotel at Skagway, southeastern Alaska, pronounce it a marvelous generator of heat and a noteworthy example of creative work.

Custom Many Centuries Old. The ancient ceremony of collecting wraith silver at daybreak on Martinmas are due to the duke of Braccath as Lord of the Hundred was observed at Knightlow Hill, near Coventry, England. The custom has endured for more than 1,000 years, and 24 parishes pay the wraith silver which originated in certain privileges granted to the ancient residents. Before sunrise people went to the spot to pay their toll, and afterward they were entertained at breakfast.

An Easy Wash Day. According to an English superstition which prevailed among the wash women of that country, the job will be rendered easy and entirely comfortable by tying two dishcloths together in the shape of a cross and throwing them over the wash tub.

OLDER THAN NEW ORLEANS

Ancient Records Show That Town of Natchitoches Has a Right to Claim Earliest Settlement.

Early in the history of Louisiana there was a spirited rivalry between the French and Spaniards as to which nation should occupy the region between the Red and Sabine rivers. About the close of the Seventeenth century the Spaniards established a post at Adams (or Adise), on the east side of the Sabine, and in 1734 Governor Cadillac sent Juchereau de St. Denis to establish a post at some point on the Red river. Martin, the historian, says that the expedition of St. Denis was "for the double purpose of finding a vent for Crozat's goods and checking the advances of the Spaniards, who were preparing to form settlements in the neighborhood of Natchitoches." St. Denis left a few settlers at Natchitoches, but it was not until 1717 that a permanent fort was erected there, which makes Natchitoches a little older than New Orleans. Dumont describes this fort as "a square palisade, where a little garrison was kept as a barrier against the Spaniards." A Catholic mission was established about the same time. The people, few in numbers, were not able to employ a resident priest, and for some years they were attended by Father Margit and other missionaries.

Father Stanislaus came in 1763, and the humble mission developed into the cathedral church of St. Francis, which today is one of the historical Catholic landmarks of the nation. During the French and Spanish domination Natchitoches was an important trading post. The Spaniards from the west of the Sabine would come back with pack mules heavily laden with peltries, dried buffalo tongues, silver from the Mexican mines, etc., to exchange for dry goods and other necessities. In 1824 Isaac Wright began running a steamboat between Natchitoches and the settlements further down the river, and this added to the importance of the town as a commercial center. With the establishment of Shreveport and the advent of the railroad some of the trade was diverted from Natchitoches, but being located in one of the richest sections of the state the town has continued to prosper.

When in 1884, the general assembly provided for the establishment of a State Normal school, the location of the school was thrown open to general competition, and the most liberal inducements were offered by Natchitoches. The parish and city of Natchitoches purchased and donated to the state 100 acres of land, including a good building which had formerly belonged to the nuns of the Sacred Heart.

Splendid Memorial. A living memorial, distinctive and majestic, and different from any other that has been dedicated since the World war, was unveiled recently in Yosemite National park, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is a tablet of bronze set at the base of one of California's famous big trees. This giant of the forest, towering above the ordinary timber that surrounds it, stands henceforth as "a memorial to the unknown dead" who gave their lives in the great war. A peculiarly fitting ceremony marked the unveiling of this tablet. Water from the crystal-clear stream of the Merced that flows through the park was sprinkled upon the tree and the tablet, to symbolize the purity of the devotion of the men who died in the war and the rock at the foot of the tree on which the tablet was placed was taken as a symbol of the permanence and strength of the principles for which the men fought, and the tree, which it is hoped will live through generations, was cited as emblematic of the living and growing gratitude of the nation for the supreme sacrifice made by its sons in the war.

Admiral of the Navy. The position of the admiral of the navy has never been held by any one except Admiral Dewey, according to the navy department. At the present time no one holds the permanent rank of admiral. The rank of admiral is held during tenure of their respective positions by Robert E. Koons, chief of naval operations; Hugh Rodman, in command of the Pacific fleet; Henry B. Wilson, in command of the Atlantic fleet; and James Strauss, in command of the Asiatic fleet. It is a rule of the navy that an officer holding any of these positions must have the rank of admiral during his tenure of office.

Asked For. During a dinner party the conversation turned to good looking people. One lady said: "I think all the good looking men have stayed from this dinner party."

The gentleman to whom this remark had been made said: "Well, I think all the good looking ladies are with us tonight."

Then the lady thinking a compliment had been paid her added: "Of course, I should have said 'present company excepted.'"

Whereupon the gentleman said: "Oh! of course that's what I meant to say!"—London Telegraph.

Pecan Crop in Mexico. The pecan crop of the Nuevo Laredo district of Mexico for the 1921 season is estimated roughly at between 250 and 300 short tons, as against 500 short tons in 1920. A marked falling off in value, as well as production, is also expected, due to the large crops in Texas. The Texas crop will be drawn on first, no doubt, before the Mexican production is touched.

To Get Rid of Moths. Benzine is advised for exterminating moths. With a syringe inject the liquid into every crevice and corner of the furniture covering, turn up the edges of the carpet and (after it has been well cleaned) wet the edges with benzine. It will not injure the color or material of your best furniture or carpet. Shut the room up closely for several hours to allow the benzine to evaporate slowly. Be very careful not to have a fire or a light in or near the room. Benzine is dangerously inflammable.

Breaking the Grip of Rheumatism on the Body

Saturday Health Talk No. 85
By Froude & MacKinnon

The principle characteristic of rheumatism is pain. There is dull and continuous aching, with severity and sharpness at times. If the pain would stop for intervals it might be bearable, but the fact that it is continuous is what makes rheumatism the most dreaded of diseases.

The cause is weakened functioning of the kidneys, due to displacement of spinal joints at what is known as "kidney place." This displacement causes pressure on the spinal nerves. Chiropractic spinal adjustments restore the spinal joints to alignment and with the pressure removed the kidneys act normally and the disease gradually clears.

"A good life. Nervy gives ease to the mind just as a good spinal adjustment gives ease to the body."

SUFFERED TWO YEARS THEN FOUND HELP

"For two years prior to consulting a chiropractor I suffered with rheumatism. In August, 1919, the pain was so intense that I was unable to move. After the first chiropractic spinal adjustment the pain ceased. I continued until December when I was discharged. I have been shoeing horses ever since."—John Schaus, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 12633R.

Chiropractic means "done by hand." The true chiropractor adjusts the joints of the backbone to restore alignment and remove nerve pressure. He needs and uses nothing but his bare hands.

From the Limbo of Forgotten Things—

FASHION has rescued Roman girdles, exotic sleeves, flattering necklines, bodices not quite decided between hanging loosely or fitting snugly and skirts of wavering lengths, creating for trotteur wear Spring frocks of rare charm.

They merit a special visit and we shall be delighted to show them to you when you come.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

How We Sell Used Cars

When you buy a used car from us you purchase it on the same basis as a new car fresh from the factory. The same merchandising policy governs either transaction. Whether the car be new or one that has been used, the purchase price represents the same proportionate values. One dollar buys as much motoring value in one case as in the other.

This is the only sound basis on which used cars can be bought and sold. Furthermore, as in the case of our new cars, our interest in your purchase continues after the sale is made because we recognize that in the long run business success is built on the Good Will of satisfied customers.

The extraordinarily low prices at which used cars can now be bought is common knowledge. It only remains for the purchaser to make his selection from cars of reputable make handled by dealers who tell the truth about a car's condition and give every man a square deal.

We guarantee our used cars to be exactly as represented or money refunded

Old Christmas Customs.

It is generally conceded that some of our Christmas customs are survivals of the earlier Roman Saturnalian festival. Holly, holly, holly and holly adorned the Roman houses at this time. It is true, however, that the Druids kept a winter festival, when the priests cut sprigs of holly to each Briton but, partly as a peace offering, partly as a reminder to decorate the home with it and thus encourage sylvan spirits to enter and drive away frosts and winter.

Bronze and Bronze.

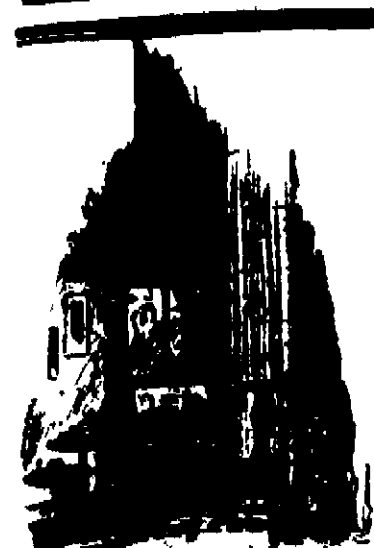

Bronze is an alloy of zinc and copper, bronze of tin and copper. Bronze consists of about 20 per cent of zinc and the remainder of copper. Bronze consists of copper and tin in various proportions, according to the use to be made of it. For coins or tokens the proportions are 95 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin. A slight addition of other substances, such as phosphorus, zinc, or aluminum, produces other alloys known as phosphor-bronze, bearing metal and aluminum bronze.

Nine Salient Points

Recently, one of the progressive Trust Companies of the country, the Guaranty Trust Company of Kansas City, published and issued to its customers, an attractive illustrated booklet giving an analysis of Light and Power Company securities.

After reviewing the general features of this class of securities and pointing out the fact that for safety they can hardly be equalled, they recommend the purchase of well selected light and power company bonds for the following reasons:

1. Light and Power Companies furnish community necessities.
2. They have enjoyed remarkable stability of earnings for many years.
3. They are recognized in law and practice as publicly regulated monopolies.
4. During periods of changing prices for basic commodities, they are free from inventory adjustment problems.
5. They enjoy greater immunity from labor troubles than almost any other large enterprise.
6. The business is very nearly on a cash basis.
7. They hold a record almost equal to national banks for minimum risk of failure.
8. For prompt payment of principal and interest and for marketability, their bonds are unsurpassed.
9. Through new development in the science of electricity, greater economies of operation are secured and new uses for electricity are found, increasing opportunity for added revenues.

These statements from an independent source are more clear and convincing than anything we might say about the bonds we are now offering.

FINANCING HOME BUILDING.
New Building Loan Office Recently
Opened in Kingston.

A branch of a national organization, the Union Home Builders of Washington, D. C., with offices in the leading cities throughout the country and organized to help home seekers buy, build or improve their property, or to pay off mortgages, has established a branch in Kingston. The Union Home Builders have developed a cooperative plan, through which funds are accumulated from prospective home builders and investors under contract, payable in monthly installments. Contract holders are grouped in series of contract participations of $500.00 each, and as payments are made monthly in the series, and money accumulates through such payments and their earnings, the funds are loaned to the investing contractors for the full amount of their contract, upon first mortgage, subject to satisfactory title and appraisal of the property owner or to be purchased. Mortgages under this plan bear interest at 4 per cent per annum on the annual unpaid balance. All interest and accumulations from the funds of each series, being held for the benefit of the contract holders; the practical result being the granting of loans at a low rate from the money of the series to each contract holder, as he reaches the loaning point and as funds are accumulated.

The experience of the Union Home Builders has been that in many cases the contract holder does not wish to accept a loan when his term has arrived, but that he prefers to sell his available loan privilege for a substantial premium to others who desire immediate funds for building purposes.

Persons with small salary who desire to own a home should be educated to the fact that home buying and home building is not a question of whether they have the ready cash, but a question of whether he or she is a member of some cooperative organization that will help them financially to secure the home they want. The Union Home Builders is just such a cooperative organization.

The plan has four essential features of a highly desirable loan: a long time easy monthly repayment plan; with the payments getting less and less each year, an extremely low rate of interest 4 per cent; six months grace in case of sickness or misfortune and the privilege of paying off part or all of the entire amount sooner without extra charge. It is the oldest institution of its kind and has been successfully operated since the day of organization.

The plan under which the Union Home Builders is operating, has been followed by similar organizations throughout the country. One of the Western States recently sponsored the plan by the passage of an act, specifically authorizing and encouraging such organizations. Later, the Supreme Court of the state confirmed the validity and constitutionality of the act in test cases.

The executive office of the Union Home Builders is in the city of Washington, D. C. where in connection with all financial institutions.

located in the District of Columbia, it came under the supervisory control and examination of the Comptroller of the Currency and is examined and submits reports in accordance with the requirements of the Treasury Department. The Board of Trustees believe they have safeguarded the plan in every way that experience, business foresight and prudence could dictate. The Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland have bonded the trustees, officers and agents. They have also bonded the Union Home Builders bank account against insolvency of the bank. The local agent is W. P. Cleveland. The offices are at 285 Wall street.

HURLEY. Hurley, Jan. 27.—Our local basketball team will to Stone Ridge January 17, to play the team at that village. There was quite a game with a score in favor of the Stone Ridge team.

The community meeting in our village church on Friday night was well attended, the hall being full of our village folks, who came to hear Prof. Whitney of Cornell University on Community Centers. The speaker gave a most interesting address on his topic, which was well enjoyed. He emphasized the fact that such social centers are especially needed in rural communities to keep the young people at home. The Community Sing was one of the attractions of the evening.

Frank Snyder has erected a house for the special purpose of raising chickens by incubator. In the lower floor or basement will be installed an incubator for 1,200 chickens. This will be operated by hot water. In the upper floor will be placed brooders for the chicks as they are hatched. Mrs. and Mrs. Freer and daughter, Mrs. went to New York city on Tuesday to visit the poultry show now being held in that city.

There was an evangelistic meeting held in the town hall on Tuesday night, conducted by the sect of Pillars of Fire. There was a few of our village folk in attendance.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. of the Kingston High School came out Wednesday evening to the prayer meeting, which was held this night to accommodate them. The young men brought with them Mr. Fenno the religious director of the Y. M. C. A. of the state, who conducted the service. Previous to this however, the young people partook of a delicious supper prepared for them, which was enjoyed by all. Then followed the regular evening service. Mr. Fenno is a most interesting speaker and he captivated his audience by his witty remarks, bright and keen sense of humor so that all present were kept full of interest the entire service. His main thoughts were joyousness, sincerity and faith.

A Small Anarchist. The youngster he recently told of who asked his father why God hadn't given the stars as well as the sun, has a match in the little girl who wrote this description of the stars: "Overhead was a gorgeous rainbow and beneath it the little ark rode proudly over the waters, with smoke pouring from her smokestack and the United States flag flying at the bow."—Boston Transcript.

"Dust" Pictorial Showing. Equipped with "dust" shooting pistols to bring down high-flying insects that cannot be netted, Jesse H. Williamson and John W. Stroum, a retired army captain, sailed from New York on the steamship Polycarp for the jungles of Brazil. They plan to penetrate beyond the river of doubt, the Rio Tadoro, in their hunt for hitherto unexplored zoological specimens for the University of Michigan and other colleges.

The expedition is expected to last six months up the Amazon to Porto Velho, thence along the Madeira-Moreira railroad 200 miles into the Serra Dos Parecis mountains.

The "dust" shot to be used in gathering winged denizens of the fever-infested jungle is so fine that the most delicate specimens would not be irreparably injured, the explorers said.

Osark Escapes. "Howdy, Gap?" saluted an acquaintance. "I don't aim to mind nobody's business, nor nuth' that-a-way, but if it's a fair question, what was coming off at yore place yesterday? As I was angling along past I heered you yelling 'Whew' sorter like you meant it, and I seed you yanking yore brother-in-law around by the nose, or 'peared like, or the whiskers, or something, and causing him right sharply whil-you done so. Recollecting that it wasn't none of my business I went on, but I'm tollable shore I observed you haul off and kick the gent a time or two."

"Aw, he'd drunk up a bottle of my horse liniment," replied Gap Johnson at Rumpus Ridge, Ark., "and that was the only way to handle him."—Kansas City Star.

Kentucky Leads in Tobacco. Forty-six billion of the $2,000,000,000 cigarettes manufactured in this country last year were consumed here; the remainder were exported. In addition to the cigarettes manufactured 20,500,000 cigars and about 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco were turned out. Kentucky raised the most tobacco, while New York has the largest number of tobacco factories. Tobacco last year brought into the government in the form of revenue nearly $300,000,000.

"Those Who Dance
Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay-day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound interest.

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during early years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestion—sometimes in all these penalties.

Nerve won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the contract?

There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal—rich, comforting and satisfying—and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your meal-time drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, or any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum, coffee in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of large bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

PUREBRED POULTRY IS BEST

Good, Plump, Tender Chickens Always Command Top Prices—Savory Fowl Are Less.

There is always a good demand for market poultry and eggs, and those who raise it will find that the price received for the goods sold. Good, plump, tender chickens, properly dressed, always command the top price, while the scrawny, stagg, inferior stuff has to be sold for whatever it will bring. The farmer who says there is no profit in the poultry business is generally one of those fellows who raise the latter kind.

Both Animal and Bird.

One of the strangest animals known is the platypus, a creature inhabiting the river banks of Australia and Tasmania. It resembles both an animal and a bird in that its body and tail are like those of a beaver, while its web feet and bill remind one of a duck. It has teeth for chewing its food, but it has no external ear, although its hearing is acute. It lays eggs like a turtle, but suckles its young. A specimen of the animal has been placed on exhibition in the National Museum, Washington.

First Tea Advertisement.

The first advertisement of a certain everyday article which ever appeared in the English Press was published in the Mercury Politicus on September 28th, 1658. It read:—"That excellent and by all Physicians approved China drink called by the Chinese Tehs, by other Nations Tay alias Tee is sold at the Sultaness Head Coffee House in Sweetings Rents, by the Royal Exchange, London." This advertisement proves, by its mention of "coffee house," that the later stimulant had got a start of tea as a beverage.

To Mend Enamel.
Take equal parts of fine coal dust, fine salt and putty. Knead well together and pack into the hole firmly. Put water into the mended article and stand on a warm stove for an hour. Wipe carefully and leave for a day before using. The mixture will form a cement as hard as the enamel, says a correspondent.

POUGHKEEPSIE IS A FASTER QUINTET

Than the Local High School Team; and Wins at Kingston's Court by a Tally of 26 to 5.

It must be said that Kingston High School has a good basketball team; but Poughkeepsie High has a better one, for the final outcome of the inter-scholastic basketball game on the Kingston court Friday afternoon was 26 to 5 in favor of the Bridge City lads.
Every fellow on the Kingston Varsity played his best but the ill-wind of unsuccessful shooting wrought havoc with the local score. Herbert Anderson, Bott and Corrahan played like demons and broke up the pass work of the Poughkeepsie players with uncanny precision. Dressell, Vogt, Howland, MacFadden and Schmidt covered the passes of their teammates accurately but whenever they strove to cage the ball it would roll around on the rim and drop with tantalizing succession back into the court again. The team work of the locals has increased considerably in the past week and under no consideration should the fellows feel discouraged at their failure to trim their rivals. Mr. Woodard is working heart and soul with the fellows to bring about perfection and he is certain to have a winning team on the court before the end of the season, if Friday's playing is continued.

For the Poughkeepsians it may be said that they have a wonderful team but the showing of Friday was really bracing to the locals, since it seems that the down-river lads did not break away as was expected. Hall is a wonderful forward and he is amazingly fast and without him the Poughkeepsie team would not be as successful as it is at present. Underhill, Palmer, Swenson, Keller know the art of guarding their opponents.

A large number of Saugerties Varsity players were at the game and it was supposed that it was in order to get a line on the local brand of playing. The game was well attended by the students and the citizens who not only aided financially but morally as well as the cheering section is at present a hoarse quantity.
